

SUPPORTING GRADUATE & EARLY CAREER TEACHERS

2 DAY PROFESSIONAL LEARNING

presented by DAN PETRO - Behaviour Analyst

THURSDAY 28 FEBRUARY & THURSDAY 4 APRIL 2019

9:30am - 3:00pm

The Carrington - 505 Wyndham Street Shepparton

New teachers with high energy, a range of recently acquired skills and the desire to do well for their students and school; with the best of intentions can easily invest time in behaviour management systems that are not needed for the vast majority of the class, and ultimately ineffective for the children who do require additional behavioural support.

During these two days, participants will be provided with evidence-based practices that will support their new roles as educators. Desirable outcomes include the expansion of teachers' behavioural repertoires beyond what are often described as tricks or tools. Areas covered include:

- The Art of Giving Directions
- Data Based Decision Making
- Safely Handling Crisis Situations
- Emotional Survival for Educators
- Understanding and Using Reinforcement
- Strengthening Relationships with Students
- Implementing Effective Problem Prevention Practices
- Teaching Social Skills and other Interactional Procedures
- Understanding Behavioral Functions Related to Interventions
- Coordinating a Behavioural Approach Within a Strong Framework
- Responding Correctly when Students do the Right and Wrong Thing
